Chic chignon

RAW HAIR'S ANTHONY NADER SHOWS US HOW TO WORK NATALIE PORTMAN'S EFFORTLESS UP-DO

1 On day-old hair, use a conditioning spray, such as L'Oréal Paris Elvive Total Repair, followed by a sea-salt spray (A) and blast dry (B) using your fingers to create texture.

2 Part hair low on one side and then roughly rake hair off your face. Gather into a slightly loose side ponytail on the opposite side to your part. Secure firmly with a non-snag elastic.

3 Twist the tail of the pony softly from roots to ends, wrap the tail around the base and secure with hidden bobby pins (C). To give the illusion of a fuller chignon, pull it apart a little and add a few more pins to hold in place. Finish with a light mist of hairspray (D).

Tip! Skip the hair brush or comb and use your fingers as your shaping and styling tool when you want to create that purposefully a-bit-unfinished up-do
